

Project Summary

In this project we have learned to use some important bash commands like `cat`, `head`, `tail`, `sort`, `uniq`, `cut`, `grep`, etc. in the context of mining a csv formatted toy dataset consisting of rankings of the US academic Institutes. We will re-use these commands in a more complicated format in the upcoming chapters.