

Conclusion

When you are specifying values for `fillStyle` and `strokeStyle`, all of the approaches we looked at will help get you the result you want. You can even use multiple variations of these approaches in the same app. For the sake of consistency, I wouldn't recommend doing that, but that is a different issue of preference altogether. Also, isn't this probably the weakest conclusion for an epic chapter on color that you've probably ever seen? I certainly hope so! :P
