

Further Information

Throughout the course, there will be links to help you understand the concept further.

The idea of the course is quite easy to paraphrase: “What every professional C++ programmer should know about the C++ standard library.” Because of this intention, I left a lot of answers unanswered; therefore, I provide you with the links to the details at the very beginning of each new topic. The link will be referring to the excellent online resource www.cppreference.com.