According to the Lambda pricing model, you have to pay extra for the staging and testing environments even if they are idle.

Which of the following is NOT a technical limitation of using AWS Lambda?

5

I want to build an application that tracks vehicles and transmits their location coordinates to a server. The application will track a vehicle using computer vision technology (which processes dynamic images), detects the vehicle from camera images, and tracks its location. It must transmit the coordinates immediately to the server so that the server knows the exact location of the vehicle before it moves from that location. Is it advisable to use AWS Lambda for this application given the technical constraints?
