Quiz

A short quiz to test your understanding of the concepts you have learned in this chapter.

1

The `[(ngmodel)]` attribute allows us to iterate through all of the elements of some array or list, and create the DOM element for it.

2

The HTML attribute, `click` (declared inside the `button` HTML tab), defines which function will be called once the `button` is clicked.

3

Put the steps for implementing an operation in the correct order.

1. Implement changes necessary in HTML of the component
2. Implement the call of the REST API in the service
3. Implement changes necessary in TypeScript of the component
4. Implement REST API on the backend

4 `*ngFor` is used to double-bind the information on the HTML, with our TypeScript code.

Check Answers